

INDIECOLLECT

Sneak Preview of AFTER LOUIE, starring Alan Cumming & Zachary Booth
Tribute to Director Vincent Gagliostro
DATE CHANGE: Monday, March 26, 7pm, Museum of the Moving Image

IndieCollect joins the Queens World Film Festival in celebrating Vincent Gagliostro's beautiful, provocative, funny, and touching movie, AFTER LOUIE.

Re-scheduled after yesterday's snowstorm, come see it on Monday, March 26, at 7pm, at Museum of the Moving Image.

Tickets are $15, or free with the museum's Film Lover membership.

Vincent Gagliostro, 2018 "Spirit of Queens" award-winner, will be present for a dialogue with the audience.

Vincent writes: "AFTER LOUIE is a portrait of what happened to us – the generation who endured the AIDS epidemic. In confronting the end of a traumatic era and provoking a conversation between generations, I dare us to dream of a new and vibrant future."

I can't say enough about this extraordinary film. Alan Cumming's performance is a tour de force and Zachary Booth matches him in intensity.

IndieCollect's Bob Hawk and Gerry Herman were both on the producing team. Gerry is Founding Sponsor of our Queer Cinema Index, and Bob is heading our Queer Cinema Index initiative.

The film opens March 30, at the Cinema Village. Come see it on March 26 and help us spread the word about its upcoming run.

This movie will move you!

Sandra

Sandra Schulberg
President

SAVED DOES NOT MEAN SEEN

Copyright © 2018 IndieCollect, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.