PROSECUTING EVIL: THE EXTRAORDINARY WORLD OF BEN FERENCZ
Now Playing at Cinema Village in New York City

Through restoration of my father's film about the first Nuremberg trial, I got to work with our last surviving Nuremberg prosecutor, Ben Ferencz, and helped to develop Barry Avrich's terrific documentary about him, PROSECUTING EVIL. Now 98, Ben is wiser and wittier than ever. His story of how one person can make a difference in the world is a must for anyone interested in human rights, justice for victims of genocide, and stopping the spread of war, which Ferencz considers the greatest crime of all.

Tickets for the Cinema Village screenings are available here.
Read the Wall Street Journal and New York Times reviews for the film and watch the trailer.

On March 1, the film opens nationwide:

Los Angeles	Laemmle Music Hall
Chicago	AMC River East
Philadelphia	AMC Voorhees
Washington D.C.	AMC Hoffman Center
Detroit	AMC Livonia
Phoenix	AMC Arizona Center
Tampa	AMC Highwoods
Minneapolis	AMC Southdale
Miami	AMC Aventura
Orlando	AMC Altamonte

I hope you get a chance to see this wonderful and inspiring film!

All my best,
Sandra Schulberg
