4K restoration of IN THE SOUP (1992) by Alex Rockwell, screens March 28 at Museum of the Moving Image, hosted by "Spirit of Queens" Honoree, David Schwartz.

David Schwartz is being honored by the Queens World Film Festival for his 33-year tenure at Museum of the Moving Image that began with an internship in 1985. During his tenure, Schwartz has curated more than 10,000 film screenings and played a key role in numerous exhibitions and online projects. In 2006, he won a Film Heritage Award from the National Society of Film Critics for organizing the first complete Jacques Rivette retrospective in the United States. In January 2019, the New York Film Critics Circle honored him with a Special Award recognizing his work at MOMI.

David elected to screen IndieCollect's 4K restoration of IN THE SOUP — one of his favorite films — as part of this special tribute to his career.

IN THE SOUP won the Grand Jury Prize at the 1992 Sundance Film Festival and garnered rave reviews in The New York Times, Rolling Stone, and Newsweek. It is considered one of the most iconic indie movies of all time and helped to make Steve Buscemi a star. Seymour Cassel and Jennifer Beals also give unforgettable performances.

In 2017, film distributor Matt Grady, founder of Factory 25, launched a Kickstarter campaign to restore the movie in time to mark the film's 25th anniversary. More than 800 backers made it possible.

Please join us for this celebratory screening!
