

INDIECOLLECT

You are invited to
A CONVERSATION WITH MICHAEL BARKER
Co-Founder & Co-President of Sony Pictures Classics

Moderated by Jason Kliot, award-winning producer and IndieCollect board member

We have just two weeks to go until our "off-the-record" conversation with Michael Barker, co-founder & Co-President of Sony Pictures Classics, moderated by award-winning indie producer & IndieCollect board member Jason Kliot.

Wednesday, June 12, 2019
6pm to 8:30pm
Manhattan Home of Jason Kliot & Joana Vicente

Sony Pictures Classics just acquired several movies at the Cannes Film Festival, including two by American indie filmmakers — Frankie by Ira Sachs and The Climb by Michael Covino. This is your chance to ask Michael how he uses Cannes and other festivals to acquire and position films.

Michael is to receive the Sam Spiegel International Film Lab Honor this July 4 in Jerusalem for his work as a "cultural master-builder." You can read more about it here.

Co-Hosts' contributions count towards Donor Circle status. Donor Circle members are cherished because your funds underwrite our overall mission and you are thus honored in a variety of ways. Donors who contribute $2,500 or more during the calendar year get on-screen credit in our 4K restorations.

We look forward to seeing you at what will be a fascinating discussion with one of the masters in our field about how to distribute great indie films to targeted audiences.

Thank you for supporting our campaign to #SaveIndieFilm — your contribution matters!

All my best,
Sandra Schulberg and the IndieCollect Team
